CAIRO, April 15.—Two fierce battles were reported still raging today, one in the Tobruk coastal area of Libya and the other around Sollum in northwestern Egypt.

(Authoritative quarters in London stated that between 200 and 300 Germans were taken prisoners during a British counter-attack against Axis forces around Tobruk, where the British garrison is under siege.)

(In addition, these quarters said, 12 enemy planes were shot down while raiding Tobruk.)

Fighting Continues

Fighting in these areas was reported continuing after the British announced they had defeated an Italo-German assault that pierced Tobruk's defenses only to be driven back.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

With the thermometer registering 83 in the Croton district, Monday afternoon, some of the youngsters took to their sun suits, and there was a return to the practice of hopping on the rear of the ice wagon, seeking for chips of ice to put in their mouths to refresh themselves.

Indications that some heavy road work is going to be done in this vicinity soon, were seen Monday afternoon, when a huge roller was observed being transported up Jefferson street on a Highway Department truck.

The early birds who put in their grass seed as soon as the first warm day arrived, are now reaping the benefit. Pa Newc observed one lawn which was quite green with new grass.

Leaves will soon be making their appearance on many of the trees around the city, due to the unprecedented spell of early warm weather.

"Keep Sidewalks Clean—It's the Law." This is no hick town regulation. It's the law in New York City.
About every fifty feet such a sign is posted along the streets in many sections. And keeping the sidewalks clean doesn't mean sweeping refuse into the carway in that city either.

Down in Pittsburgh steps are being taken in an effort to break up the practice of sweeping paper and refuse into the carway of the streets, and littering up the streets with discarded bits of paper, bags, gun wrappers, etc. Special details have been named to patrol the streets in an effort to put a halt to littering of streets.

welfare of their evergreens, should,

Partial Settlement Of Coal Mine Tieup Is Expected Today

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK, April 15.—
Partial settlement of the suspension of work by miners in the soft coal fields was expected late today or tonight.

The agreement, if reached, will send 250,000 miners in two-thirds of the bituminous fields back to digging coal.

The nation's soft coal mines, vital to national defense, have been shut down since April 1 when the deadlocked Appalachian wage conference failed to reach a new agreement

supplanting the two-year contract which expired at midnight March 31. Negotiations have been in progress since March 11.

Meeting This Afternoon

Indications today, however, were that John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and mine owners in the northern Appalachian area will finally get together on a contract at a meeting called for 4 o'clock this afternoon.

"I think this meeting will be an important one," significantly declared Dr. John R. Steelman, director of the U. S. conciliation service.

Rearmament Drive Makes Good Progress Says War Secretary

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Secretary of War Stimson today told congress that the U. S. army must be trained to fight outside the western hemisphere and assured the nation that progress of the huge rearmament drive is running eight to 12 months ahead of the world war period.

Directly referring to the possibility of another American expeditionary force in discussing the "complicated technique" of modern warfare, Stimson said:

"Furthermore, our forces must be prepared for the possibilities of war in many and varied terrains, it being quite uncertain in what part of North or South or Central America, or even possibly other regions it ultimately may be necessary to use them in the defense of this country and its possessions."

Stimson testified before a special senate committee investigating all phases of the defense program, headed by Sen. Truman (D. Mo.), as Secretary of the Navy Knox and Donald M. Nelson, defense director of purchasing, were called before other committees probing preparedness work.

Warns Industry

Stimson was highly optimistic regarding the final outcome of the defense program, but he warned private industry that from this point on it has great responsibility, and that the training of "many successful instalments of men" may last as long as five years.

BERLIN, April 15.—
German divisions have defeated British forces in northern Greece and have captured the town of Ptolemais and Kozani, which lie about 50 and 60 miles southeast of Florina, the German high command announced today.

Thirty British tanks were destroyed in the battle, the German communications announced, and the British are now retreating.

Claim British Leaving

At the same time, German quarters reiterated that British imperial forces are abandoning Greece and will fight rear guard actions only.

They said this conclusion had been drawn on the basis of German aerial observations of Greek harbors and the Hellenic defensive front lines.

German airmen reported sighting
a number of British transport ves-

Greek ports.

Berlin quarters said these ships

Appointment Is Given Hopkins

WASHINGTON, April 15.—President Roosevelt today officially designed his intimate friend and adviser Harry Hopkins as chief supervising agent of all purchasing operations under the lend-lease act.

A letter to Secretary of the Treasury, Morgenthau, contained the first public statement by the president that Hopkins has been placed at the controls in expediting aid to the embattled democracies.

"Purchasing operations by all countries in the lend-lease area will be supervised by Harry Hopkins," wrote Mr. Roosevelt, "and such operations by all other countries which must necessarily involve considerations of foreign policy will be processed by the Department of State."

It has been generally known and accepted that Hopkins, although not on the government payroll, has been Mr. Roosevelt's chief coordinator in the British aid field for some time.
His trip to London several months ago was for the purpose of acquainting himself at first hand with the needs and problems of

Controversy Over Greenland's Defense Being Continued

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The Danish government has sent the United States a formal notification direct from Copenhagen declaring the Greenland agreement void, it was learned today.

The note was delivered by the Danish foreign office to the American legation in Copenhagen for transmission to Washington. It has now been received by the state department and is being studied with a view to determining whether it calls for an answer.

May Not Reply

If Secretary of State Cordell Hull decides to reply, he will, it was learned, reject the Danish government's contention that the Greenland agreement is not valid because Danish Minister Henrik De Kauffmann failed to obtain approval of it in advance from Copenhagen.
However, there is a possibility that the American government will ignore the Copenhagen note in view of the fact it already has made its position clear with regard to the conclusion of the agreement that gives this country the right to defend Greenland.

The Danish government's move in sending a note to this government through the American legation in Copenhagen instead of through its own legation in Washington followed its action in ordering the immediate recall of Kauffmann.

It apparently wished to make sure that its position was made clear to the United States. The Danish envoy previously had refused to carry out instructions from Copenhagen to deliver a protest to the American

Four Hour Raid Made On Brest

R. A. F. Planes Rain Bombs
On Harbor Where Nazi
Warships Are Located

GERMAN CONVOY IS ALSO ATTACKED

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 15.—R. A. F.
planes rained bombs of the heaviest caliber on the German battle cruisers Gneisenau and Scharnhorst in a slashing four-hour attack on the German naval base at Brest on the French coast, the British Air Ministry announced today.

Bombs were seen bursting either on or near the 26,000-ton German warships, the communiqué said, adding that other R. A. F. bombers carried out daylight attack off the Dutch coast prior to the night raid on Brest.

Double significance attached to the slam-bang attack on Brest. First, there was the sustained intensity of the attack itself; second, the fact that the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst still lay at anchor in the off-raided port.

Seventh Raid

Today's assault marked the seventh time within two weeks that Brest had been raided. This led to belief in some quarters that previous raids had inflicted such damage that it might have been impossible to move the Nazi cruisers from the battle-scarred harbor to a relatively safe anchorage.

The Air Ministry communiqué stated:

"The attack on Brest lasted four hours.

"The Scharnhorst and Gneisenau were seen at their berths. Hundreds of heavy bombs were dropped and bursts were seen either on or near the cruisers.

"It was impossible to confirm whether there were any direct hits.

Shipping Attacked

"During the hours of daylight yesterday shipping off the Dutch coast and a number of objectives inland were attacked.

"A convoy of supply ships escorted by fighters and naval patrol vessels was sighted and attacked from a low level with both bombs and machine guns. A ship of 4,000 tons was hit.

"Power station at Leyden were hit by several bombs and a wireless station near Leyden was bombed.
Troops guarding the station were machine-gunned.

"Gun emplacements near Zand-vaent were machine-gunned.

"One of our machines is missing.

Prior to last night's attack, the Nazis commerce-raiders Scharnhorst and Gneisenau have been "strad-dled" by bombs at least twice.

Soviet Fearful Hitler To Make New Attempt To Get Ukraine Wheat

By EARL REEVES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, April 15.—Frankly fearful of a new attempt by Adolf Hitler to reach out for the golden wheatfields of the Ukraine, rich breadbasket of Russia, the Soviet regime is doing its utmost at the present time to placate Berlin and safeguard its territorial backdoor through newly concluded agreements with Japan, authoritative Soviet quarters disclosed today.

This is explained the Soviet evacuation of women and children from a portion of German Poland.
Behind that mystery, Soviet circles revealed, lies the truth that Moscow is staving off the inevitable day of reckoning with Berlin by an exchange of territory with Germany.

In the exchange, Russia is to receive additional territory in the north as an ostensible reward for acquiescence in Hitler's land grabs in the Balkans.

Hitler, the Soviet sources say, is most apt to take over that part of the Polish Ukraine which includes the oil wells of Stanislavov and Drohobyc, and also the corner of Romania which until lately had been occupied by the Soviets.

This inching eastward would bring Hitler to an eastern frontier much closer to the Russian Ukraine.
But the Soviet regime, according to informed sources, is likely to acquiesce in this eastern movement, hoping in this way to appease Hitler's appetite for granaries by agreeing that he shall have a small share.

Soviet authorities who are aware of these stop-gap tactics are convinced nevertheless that in the end Hitler will reach out for whatever territory he wants of Russia.

These factors are believed to have played their part in conclusion of the recent Japanese-Soviet neutrality pact. London sources have been informed that Tokyo recognized that Soviet ownership of inner Mongolia and Moscow's blessing of the Japanese grab of Manchukuo neutralizes, to Moscow, the unpleasant implications of the former anti-comintern pact and creates a feeling of good will with Russia's Asiatic neighbor.

Thereby, in the Soviet view, the dangers of a two-front war—with Japan and Ukraine—which are measurably reduced.

London sources are awaiting with interest a speech which Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka is expected to deliver next Sunday at Manchouli, on the Russo-Man-chukuo frontier. This speech, it was believed, may result in disclosure of more explicit details concerning future Russo-Japanese policies.

Matthew Leivo & Sons, local con-to complete the job.

All hiring work, Leivo said, will be

ATHENS, April 15.—Ger-reinforcements poured into their reorganized lines.

A communique issued by the Greek high command said German forces are push-

Siatista is situated about 60 miles

The Greek communique, after reporting the new German offensive, said Greek forces had evacuated the Kozani region of southern Albania for "operational reasons."

"The enemy sought in vain to hinder the evacuation of Kozani," the communique said.

"Several dozen motorcycle troops were captured."

"Throughout the rest of the Al-everywhere were repulsed and 100 prisoners were taken."

Young Priest Battles Burglars

Felled By Blow Of Gold Can-

Church

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 15.—A young Carmelite priest—the Rev. Father Patrick Philip Murray—was felled by a gold candlestick today as he battled two burglars in the sacristy of Holy Trinity church, Pittsburgh.

The priest fired two shots at the men before being struck, police said.
The men fled, abandoning hundreds of dollars worth of sacred vessels which they already had in sacks.

Father Murray, 35, dazed and bleeding, staggered back to the rectory and was taken to a hospital with a possible skull fracture and lacerations in his head.

One burglar picked a candlestick off a windowsill and threw it at the priest, hitting him on the head. A neighbor said she saw two negroes leap a fence near the church just after the shooting.

Four Shot To Death in Kentucky

Fatalities Mark Mine Warfare

President And Vice President Of Coal Company Among Those Slain

STATE PATROLMAN ALSO SHOT DOWN

(International News Service)
MIDDLEBOROUGH, Ky., April 15.—Four men—including the president and vice president of the Fork Ridge Coal and Coke Company, were shot to death today in an outbreak of mine warfare six miles west of Middleborough. Seven other men were wounded.

The dead were:

C. W. Rhodes, about 50, president and general manager of the mine. E. W. Silvers, vice president and treasurer of the coal company. Bob Robinson, 35, a sergeant of the Tennessee state highway patrol. Sam Evans, 45, identified by police as a member of the CIO United Mine Workers union.

Details of the gun battle were not available at once, and there were conflicting reports as to just what occurred.

It was believed the fighting broke out about a mile from the Fork Ridge mine, which is located just over the Tennessee border.

According to one report, Rhodes and Silvers, whose mine was not a union operation, were shot when they tried to intercept a group of about 250 miners marching toward the Fork Ridge property, apparently with the object of establishing a picket line.

The Fork Ridge mine had operated continuously since April 1, with union operations were shut down as a result of the deadlock in wage discussions among United Mine Workers officials and coal operators in New York.

Officials in Middleborough said they were not sure whether the shootings occurred in Kentucky or Tennessee. "Somewhere near the state line" was the guess of one officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Factor and daughter Rosemary, 538 South Jefferson street, have returned home from Washington, D. C., where they viewed the cherry blossoms and other places of interest.

government over the recent seizure of Danish ships. Kauffmann also has indicated that the entire Danish legation staff in Washington has no more intention that he has of obeying the orders of a government which they believe to be under the complete domination of a German army of occupation.

American diplomatic quarters also feel that the Danish government is acting under duress and that the people of Denmark eventually will realize that this country's decision to defend Greenland is in their interests as well as the interests of western hemisphere defense.

Acting Under Duress

It was considered possible that Germany might force the Danish government to sever diplomatic relations with the United States and hand the American charge d'affaires in Copenhagen his passport when it becomes apparent that this government intends to recognize the agreement signed with Kauffmann as valid.

However, state department officials were not unduly concerned over the danger of any such break. They felt confident that friendly relations would be restored once Denmark has been liberated. The "hope and belief that the time is not far distant" when there will again be a "free and independent Danish government" was expressed by the state department in its announcement concerning the American government's decision to continue to recognize Kauffmann as the "duly authorized" Danish minister in Washington.

TOBRUK-SOLLUM BATTLE CENTERS CAIRO REPORTS

smashed the Axis attack on Tobruk. It was claimed, "inflicting the most severe losses on both enemy tanks and personnel."

The situation at Tobruk was restored and the British garrison there was reported still holding out against an Axis siege, while other Axis forces attacked the town of Sollum, 10 miles east of the Egyptian-Libyan border.

In fighting around Sollum, it was claimed, British troops inflicted "considerable casualties" on the advanced Axis troops.

A Berlin communique said yesterday that Sollum had been captured.

British planes bombed and strafed the combined Italo-German troops to stem the drive into Egypt and relieve the British garrison at Tobruk. It was announced that British bombers and fighters dispersed enemy troops and supply columns at various points in western Libya.

R. A. F. formations also heavily pounded the harbor of Tripoli, Libya, seaport capital 800 miles west of the Egyptian frontier, scoring bomb hits on the customs house, a power station and ships at their moorings, setting one vessel on fire. In Ethiopia, it was stated, pursuit of defeated and disorganized Italian troops beyond Addis Ababa continued and many prisoners were said to have been taken.

and the northern operators was believed to have had a favorable and influencing effect upon the negotiations.

The southern operators, who bolted the conference last Friday, refusing to meet Lewis' demands, have not been brought into the fold. They represent 33-1-3 per cent of the country's bituminous production and about 45 per cent of the production in the Appalachian field.

Hear Secretary

Secretary Perkins spent an hour and 15 minutes talking with Lewis and the northern operators last night. It was her first appearance at the conference table. She declined to make any statement beyond saying she had had "a most pleasant chat with the gentlemen."

Dr. Steelman said she stressed "the intense desire" on the part of the government that the mines, all or in part, be re-opened as soon as possible.

"She also emphasized the public interest involved and the necessity of an early settlement," Steelman revealed.

Steelman expressed his own personal opinion that the few minor points that have yet to be settled can be ironed out before the conference goes back into session at 4 o'clock.

He added that the suggestion of the southern operators that the issue be placed before the newly-created defense mediation board was not discussed last night when Secretary Perkins was present. The southerners in a telegram to Secretary Perkins last Friday asked her to certify the wage problem to the board.

It was indicated today that the northern operators will agree to Lewis' demand that the basic wage of the northern miners be raised from $6 a day to $7.

The southern operators refused to grant the $1 a day raise and also refused to eliminate the 40-cent wage differential in favor of the southern miners. In the past the basic wage for northern miners has been $6 a day, southern miners $5.60 a day.

Southern operators told Lewis that they were willing to grant an 11 per cent wage increase, which would raise the pay of southern miners 60 cents a day. They refused to go beyond that, asserting it would be "unreasonable" to attempt to operate their mines on a higher wage structure.

They said they have to pay heavier freight charges than do the northern operators and further asserted the consumer demand in the south is much lower than in the north.

When Lewis persisted to demand a flat raise of $1 a day for all miners and also the elimination of the differential they withdrew from the conference and formed their own southern coal operators conference.

Eberole Gaines, chairman of the southern conference, declared that some of the bituminous consumers in the nation were entirely out of coal, and others almost out. He said each day's delay in getting the mines back into production "is a matter of grave national importance."

Lewis concurred in the view that the coal shortage in the country is threatening to become acute.

NORTHERN GREECE TOWNS CAPTURED BERLIN REPORTS

German forces and Anglo-Greek units so far have been restricted to patrol skirmishes, despite the rapid advance of German panzer units into Greek territory.

Berlin circles said that a race is already under way between the German and British for key ports in Greece, with the Greeks bearing the brunt of the German mechanized onslaught.

They added that German planes are being kept busy bombing British transport vessels to prevent the British from escaping and that dive-bombers already have carried out violent assaults on evacuating British troops.

Furthermore, these same quarters stated that Serbia is now "finished" except for mopping up operations and that the Greek war has entered the "final round."

The German high command announced that German bombers and fighters were smashing up scattered remnants of the Serbian army, which retired to mountainous regions of Bosnia.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Authoritative circles in London declared German claims of a British withdrawal from Greece are "hardly worth mentioning.")

val affairs committee specifically to testify about a bill by Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., chairman, which would impose mandatory 30-day "cooling off" periods before strikes could be called, legalize the new defense mediation board, and "freeze" existing labor contracts.

Nelson was asked to appear before the house military affairs committee investigating labor aspects in defense production. Dr. J. B. Mathews, research director for the Dies un-American activities committee, was to testify before the same committee. He was accused with records alleging communist influence in labor unions calling defense strikes.

House leaders have agreed to give both committees $25,000 each to press nation-wide surveys of the preparedness work.

Army Assembled In Summer

Asserting that by the middle of the summer the army will be "assembled, housed, and in the full course of its training," and well on its way to being "fully equipped," Stimson said:

"I think I am speaking in measured language when I say that in no country in the world, including our own, has its military forces ever before been provided for in so brief a time and upon so adequate a scale for ministering to their necessities and comforts."

Throughout his testimony, Stimson emphasized the progress during the past year of the army's great deal of its equipment from France and England and that the defense program, as well as the aid to Britain program, presents an initial effort for complete preparedness "under pressure."

Comparing the speed of the armament and training programs with that of the world war, he said that bottlenecks first encountered have been ironed out, and said:

"Today, assuming existing priorities are not altered, we shall, in spite of the greater complexity of modern weapons, do the job from eight months to one year faster than we were doing it then."

Stimson declared that the war department has virtually completed its blueprint program for modernization of the army to meet changed conditions of warfare introduced in the European conflict by Chancellor Hitler.

"From this point forward," he said, "the chief responsibility for the speedy completion of the equipment will rest upon American industry."

Mrs. Claude Snyder, and daughter Charlotte, of North Mill street, visited Monday with the former's sister, Mrs. Richard Mason, of Pittsburgh.

hose on the trees, when the water will wash off the soot and dirt that has accumulated on them during the winter months. This soot and dirt closes up the trees' needle pores, and shuts off their breathing facilities, thus hindering and stunting their growth. The treatment acts as a necessary bath.

Trout fishing season opened today and attracted hundreds of fishermen to the streams. Pa Newc is informed by one of the fishermen that catching trout this morning was rather difficult because the water was lower than usual at the opening of trout season, and there were so many fishermen at many of the fishing spots that the trout were kept badly frightened and not inclined to bite.

With several thousand visitors coming to the city for Friday and Saturday for the state school contests, it would be a good idea to light up the city as much as possible on Friday night. Pa Newc notes a lot of signs are not lighted ordinarily before lights be seen in the city. Friday night, the better the impression to be gained of the city by the visitors.

Among the successful trout fishermen who were out in the early hours of the morning was Les Bratschle, News compositor, who brought back three trout, one of which measured 14 inches. They were caught in the Little Neshauck. Many fishermen were out at midnight, but report that the fishing did not amount to anything until it started to get daylight.

Pa Newc notes that work on excavation for the new gymnasium and auditorium building for the Wampum high school, is about completed. Erection of the structure will be rushed along and the building should be ready for use by opening of school in the fall.

Pa Newc says that he planted some garden seeds last night, and hopes that grandfather frost will stay away until next year.

People go to Washington to see the cherry blossoms, but if you want a real treat, just drive past the J. K. Furst property at 212 Winter avenue and see the pink magnolia tree, or the James M. Smith home on Highland avenue and see another tree in full bloom.

Many fine expressions of commendation have been received over the recent order of the traffic department of the city, prohibiting parking in some of the downtown alleys, notably Sycamore Way. Pedestrians and motorists are able to get through these narrow passage ways without any difficulty now.

No. 3 fire department fire hose cart is being used by the street department to haul the hose which is used to wash streets. Another truck was sent to the Croton department.

There are entrances to several vacant storerooms in the downtown section that are certainly in need of a cleaning. Washing of the windows and doing something to dress up the windows would also be a progressive step. Nothing so affects the appearance of the downtown section as storeroom entrances of this kind.

GERMAN FORCES IN NEW DRIVE IN NORTHERN GREECE

clared the main Anglo-Greek defensive lines are now "firmly established."

A Greek war office spokesman declared that British and Greek soldiers are waiting impatiently for their first opportunity to meet the Germans.

As now constituted, the main Anglo-Greek defensive system stretches from Mt. Olympus on the Gulf of Salonika westward across Albania to the Adriatic Sea near Chimara, an important Adriatic port.

(Editor's Note: Greek assertions that British as well as Greek reinforcements are arriving at the front were contrary to German claims that British forces already are evacuating Greece.)

Earlier Athens authorities declared that while the British withdrew to new positions along the main defensive line, R.A.F. and Greek warplanes mercilessly bombed and machine-gunned German troops and supply concentrations in the Monastir area of the Greco-Yugoslav border.

In New Positions
Latest information in Athens said the British forces in Greece retired to new and more defensible positions under conditions of intense cold and snow—while German units maintained heavy pressure on the eastern sector of the British lines.

A military spokesman at Athens said that German mechanized divisions on the Macedonian front "exhibited some activity without great importance" and added that Greek units were still holding their allotted section of the front, which extends from the Adriatic to the Aegean sea.

CANADA'S GREAT WAR EFFORT

ALTHOUGH our program of mutual defense has bound the United States by still closer ties of friendship with Canada, it is a question whether the extent of her magnificent and self-denying war effort is fully realized by the American people.

Because of the enormous area of our northern neighbor we are apt to overlook the fact that the 250,000 Canadians now fighting as volunteers at the front represent such a substantial proportion of her population of only 12,000,000, and that the Dominion is not merely equipping and maintaining these forces but is furnishing enormous supplies, at a cost to date exceeding a billion dollars and virtually on credit, to Great Britain.

In a letter to the Montreal Star, Dr. Schuyler Baldwin Terry, former professor of English at the University of Chicago, pertinently points out that for an American citizen properly to appraise the war sacrifices of Canadians, "whatever Canada does should be multiplied by ten in terms of population and by thirteen in terms of national income."

It is estimated that in this year the Canadian people will contribute nearly half their income to the defense of democracy. Among their deprivations is the necessary curtailment of pleasure trips to the United States. But there is no reason why our own people in increasing numbers should not visit the Dominion during the coming vacation season, especially when they will be subjected to no inconveniences arising from wartime and the traditional Canadian hospitality is still freely extended.

Personal acquaintance with Canada's great war effort should be both instructive and interesting. Canada continues to be not only our good friend but a valued customer, whose purchases in this country have vastly increased because of the war. In observing her self-denying course in the cause of final triumph over the forces of aggression, we can find fresh inspiration for the task that lies before us.

BRITISH TAXES

Those interested in taxation must have received a real shock the other day when they read that in Great Britain the basic income tax rate had been raised to fifty per cent. This means that, above a small exemption which amounts to something like $440, the average citizen will have to pay fifty per cent of his earnings to the government for the purpose of carrying on the war against Germany.

In the United States apologetics for each hike in our own income tax rates have sought to soften the blow by declaring that anyhow our taxes were not as heavy as those of Great Britain. Without going into the question of local taxes, which bear a larger part in the economy of our country than England, it may be admitted that our income tax rate is still lower than that of John Bull. Furthermore, it may be stated that few Americans would relish the thought that some time in the not distant future our income tax rates might get as high as those of our British cousins.

The British will undoubtedly pay this heavy tax without undue complaint because they realize they are fighting for the defense of their empire, fighting the greatest threat that has arisen against them since the days of Napoleon. At the same time it must be stated that when the socialist leaders of Great Britain are mentioning a new kind of economic society for England after the war is over they know what they are talking about.

It is not necessary to usher in socialism through a bloody revolution. Private property rights can be abolished through taxation. If the war continues for another year or two, we may see something like this shaping up in Europe.

Of course from now on the United States through the lease-lend bill will be expected to furnish an increasingly larger share of the funds for carrying on the war. This is inevitable, because the records show that the average Britisher is now being taxed about to the limit of his endurance. And the more money we spend the more we will have to raise by taxation later on. It will spell either more taxation or repudiation by inflation. The British are wisely seeking to avoid this latter calamity by increasing the tax rate. What will the New Dealers do about it?

PENSIONS FOR ALL

From the National Institute of Health comes a proposal for old people's towns in the south where folks past 65 could spend their last years and their Social Security checks.

How to be happy while someone else does the work—that's the problem that is consuming the nation's mental energy. According to Nation's Business a tabulation made several months ago revealed the astounding total of 27,794,620 persons now enjoying the bounties of the federal government. That doesn't include the army or navy, or the national defense workers, or the state, city and county employees and their families. Nearly one-third of our people are now riding on government passes.

At the present rate, how many productive workers will be left in 1980 to support the unproductive? By that time about 10 per cent of the population will be on the Social Security shelf. Nearly 25 per cent of the total will be housewives. Unnumbered millions will be working for government. And before the remainder can begin to support this horde of dependents they will first have to devote time to paying public debts accumulated by their fathers.

Trying to look ahead in the fog one sees a new "Man With the Hoe"—the last of the productive workers—"And on his back the burden of the world."—Nation's Business.

Congressmen voted to continue three-cent postage, secure in their knowledge that they can still send out their speeches free.

It is reported that British bombers damaged the Berlin courts. It is not believed, however, that it was a blow at justice.

A prying reporter has dug up a record to show that Thomas Jefferson invented the swivel chair. Why not? It has its uses in the pursuit of happiness.

A critic says that the older generation was brought up on thick novels, such as those of Dickens. Doesn't he think the novels the younger generation is reading are a bit thick?

TRAINING TODDLER IN OBEDIENCE

We want the tot and runabout to obey us when we are with him away from home. He will do so, as a rule, if he has been correctly trained.

A worried mother writes of her boy 21 months old: "Dear Dr. Myers: He is hard-headed, stubborn and it is almost impossible to make him mind. He has always had lots of attention everywhere we go. Demands it when we have company in our home. He is also an only child."

"When we go to a store, etc., he immediately goes through everything. If I try to correct him, people say 'Oh, leave him alone, he's just a boy.' One of these fine days they'll start saying 'Here comes that darn kid; I wish his mother would make him mind.'"

Determined Child
"He is the type of child that will do or die. If I tell him to leave something alone he keeps on until I take it away from him."

"If we are out and I make him stop doing something, he immediately throws a fit; sometimes falling on the floor and screaming. Please tell me how I can stop this. I have tried making him wear a harness; but he pulled on it until he fell down and then people looked at me like I had lost my mind, putting one of those things on a little child. I will appreciate anything you can tell me. I enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope."

The Doctor's Answer
Better keep him home, if possible, until he has learned to obey you there. If you must take him to the store, then put the harness on him and make him think he is "playing horse."

At home, pick out a few things he must never do. Tell him so just once. Merely direct him or intercept him in relation to all other things for the present. Immediately after he does the forbidden act, spank him. If he cries or gets a tantrum, act as if you don't notice it. In relation to these few forbidden acts, allow no exceptions to occur. Be sure he always gets a good spanking. Don't yell at him. As soon as he learns the means of no concerning these few forbidden acts, extend it to a few more.

Another Punishment
When you are sure he will stay in one place, without being held or tied, try another punishment for misbehavior. Make him sit in a chair without your view for exactly 20 minutes, letting him know he would get a spanking or paddling if he left the chair without permission. In this way you can abandon spanking.

Show him lots of affection when he is good. Answer all his questions. Enjoy his creations, however crude. Read to him a great deal.

You may receive a selected list of books and pamphlets on understanding, disciplining and guiding the child by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. What bathroom etiquette as between parents and children using the same bathroom do you advise.
A. Depends on the preference of the parents. Perhaps prudishness is worse than lack of conventional modesty.

Q. Why does the high school teacher more often resort to ridiculing a sarcasm than does the fourth grade teacher?

A. The high school student is more easily injured by these barbarous weapons than the fourth grader is.

THE GARDENER

A garden's made.
With hoe and spade
And hours of toiling done.
This best of trades
Has three good aides:
The wind, the rain, the sun.

But weeds are quick
In growth and thick
And man alert must be,
Or thistles tall
Will smother all
The bloom he wished to see.

There's not one spot
Of garden plot
Without man's loving care.
Stop spade and hoe
And charm will go
And all be bleak and bare.

The sun and rain
And wind in vain
The roots of things will stir,
Save stout of heart
Man does his part
A faithful gardener.

There is the little yarn about the man who got into trouble and was acquitted by a smart lawyer.

"I suppose I'd better pay your fee now," he said, after the trial. "How much will it be?"

"Let me see," ruminated the lawyer. "Ah, yes, it will be just $450 down and $45 each month for 24 months."

"H-m-m," mused the client. "That sounds just like buying an automobile."

"That's right, I am," said the lawyer.

"I see by the paper that there is an automobile for every four persons while there is only one bathtub for every six," remarked one man.

"I'd say four persons to a car is about right," replied the other. "But six in a bathtub kind of crowds things, don't you think?"

Illegal Aliens Present Problem
Conditions Have Changed Recently
Jackson Wants Revision Of Laws

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Deportation of aliens, illegally entered into the United States, was a simple enough method of dealing with 'em at the time our present immigration law was enacted. They weren't so numerous then or for a number of years afterward. We didn't have any computations, either, about deporting the comparative few who did slip in surreptitiously.

And when we shipped 'em back to their original home countries, said countries had no particular objections to receiving 'em back again.

The situation's entirely different now.

Illustratively, assume the case of an anti-Communist refugee from Russia or an anti-Nazi refugee of a poor, unfortunate Jew from Germany or an anti-Fascist refugee from Italy.

In the first place, we don't like to deny the privilege of asylum to such an individual. In the second place, Russia or Germany or Italy may refuse to receive the unhappy exile if we do return him. In the third place, if Russia or Germany or Italy does consent to receive him, it may do so only because it wants to murder him as soon as the Communists, Nazis or Fascists get their hands on him. Naturally we shy away from the idea of delivering him over to their unmercifulness.

Or suppose the guy is a genuine, bad citizen. His native land is glad to get rid of him. In that case its inclination is to say to Uncle Sam, "You can't wish him back onto us. You've got him. Keep him."

And, if he's such a tough nut, no other country's a bit likely to accept him. So we're stuck with him.

Thousands of Cases
It seems we have had about 10,000 of these chaps' cases hanging fire. Legally they're deportable, but we either can't deport 'em or we hate to do it.

That's why Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, who has the problem to deal with, is asking Congress to revise our immigration law, to enable him to meet existing conditions. They didn't prevail when the law was passed. Since then the development of Communism, Nazism and Fascism has created "em."

And of late, of course they've been accentuated by the democratic-talitarian war.

Jackson favors legislation to let nice, decent aliens in if they can prove their respectability. Even if they snoot in illegally, he wouldn't lock 'em up, provided they're "deserving." Instead, he'd parole 'em and finally he'd grant 'em citizenship, if they stayed satisfactory.

But as for sure-enough undesirables—who ought to be deported but can't be, because the countries they came from won't re-admit 'em?

Jackson thinks these boys should be incarcerated somewhere, pending deportation whenever possible—which may be never. He doesn't believe they should be left knocking around in the United States—may be never getting into mischief, but always liable to do so, as hinted at by their past records.

And Jackson suggests the creation of a government board to classify aliens, as to decency and indecency.

The nice ones would be admitted. The comparatively nice ones, sneaking in illegally, would be paroled. Both classifications, having made good, would be eligible for citizenship. But the identified thugs, including miscellaneous totalitarian subverters of Uncle Sam's government, would be interned, or some such thing (if physically undeportable), without waiting for 'em to commit something overt.

Labor Competition
In the early days of our recent immigration restrictions, the notion wasn't so much to keep out alien criminals (though that was a consideration also) as it was to exclude alien arrivals in competition with American labor.

It seemed to me at the time that there was a blowhole in this policy, since immigrants aren't alone competitive producers; they likewise are consumers.

I submitted this proposition to Chairman Samuel Dickstein of the house of representatives immigration committee and he promptly answered, "That's exactly what I say."

Today's state of affairs is otherwise, though. This isn't a mere matter of producers and consumers. It involves Communists, Nazis, Fascists and assorted subverters—and fugitives from 'em.

Electricity is one of the greatest boons to mankind.

One cannot conceive of modern life without electricity.

There is continued great expansion of high-powered electric lines. This will increase cases of electric shock and electric burns.

Most of such accidents will be due to negligence or carelessness.

Both experienced and inexperienced electric workers will suffer.

Severity of shock may vary with different conditions.

When a person is damp or wet, shock or burn is usually severe.

A partially insulated person will have less shock.

Tools and persons should be insulated by all electric workers.

A victim of electric shock should not be moved for at least an hour.

Artificial respiration should be started immediately and continued.

The final proof of tact is to inspect a new home and rave about the swell furniture you wouldn't have.

The World and the Mud Puddles

JAPAN TOO AMBITIOUS

It was just eighty-seven years ago on March 31, 1941, that the United States and Japan signed their first treaty of friendship.

The signing of that agreement has since proved to be a momentous event. From that time onward, Japan turned away from the past, broke the centuries-old chains of isolation and feudalism in which she has been fettered, and with almost fantastic speed began introducing the customs, manners, inventions, industries and political reforms of Europe and the United States. The long slumbering island kingdom proved an apt pupil. Within a comparatively short time it has become a world power, but one afflicted, unfortunately, with grandiose dreams of an imperial destiny.

This was scarcely what Admiral Perry had in mind when he sailed his squadron of ships into Uraga Harbor on July 8, 1853. The United States merely wanted—and in the following March obtained—the right to carry on trade with Japan. But contact with the West stirred Japan's ambition deeply. She desired not only to emulate her teachers but to surpass them. She faithfully copied their virtues and practiced their follies. Having entered the world stage late, when it was already crowded with contestants for colonies, power and prestige, Japan suffered from a foolish inferiority complex from which she has been trying desperately to free herself ever since at the expense of Korea, China and American good will.

Japan's present leaders might well reflect that today, as at the signing of the first friendship pact with the United States, this country's policy still seeks only friendly trade relations based on that mutual respect for the other's rights which alone ensures peace and good will.

U. S. Steel Signs New Contract

Wage Controversy Is Ended
By Agreement On Monday Afternoon

PROVISIONS MADE BY NEW CONTRACT

By ALAN J. FUNCH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
PITTSBURGH, April 15.—"Big Steel" and the C.I.O.-Steel Workers Organizing Committee on Monday afternoon signed a new contract providing for a 10-cent-an-hour raise for some 240,000 U.S. Steel Corporation employees and setting a basic $5.80 per day wage rate for the industry.

The agreement was signed on the eve of the third deadline set for a general walkout and after months of discussions which at times had threatened to stop production in the largest steel producing corporation in the world.

The C.I.O. union won its demands for a wage increase and an improved vacation plan, but did not achieve its goal of recognition as sole bargaining agent nor a system of check-offs on payment of union dues.

The new contract, which supplants the agreement signed four years ago, calls for a 10-cent increase in all classifications of steel workers and raises the hourly wage base from 62½ cents to 72½ cents. It is estimated the wage increase will add $54,000,000 to pay envelopes of U.S. Steel employees annually.

A covering letter to the contract, which was signed by Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation President J. Lester Perry, C.I.O. President Philip Murray and 10 other members of the S.W.O.C. negotiating committee, provides that—for the first time in the industry—all women employees in the maintenance and production divisions shall also receive the basic wage rate. Heretofore, they had been getting 56 cents an hour.

Retroactive To April 1
All provisions of the agreement made are automatically retroactive to April 1.

It was also jointly agreed—although not specifically stated in the new contract—that so-called "white collar" groups could obtain collective bargaining when they designated a union, if they so desired.

Under the new contract there will be one week vacation with pay for all employees with three or more years of service and two weeks for those with 15 years or more service. It is estimated that this provision alone would add $3,500,000 to pay envelopes. Union officials estimated 57,800 workers will get two weeks vacation; and that 18,200 others will receive the one week vacation. Under the old contract workers with five or more years service got one week's vacation.

Big Steel's agreement came just a few hours after Bethlehem Steel Company, against whom the S.W.O.C. recently struck with attendant violence at Bethlehem, Pa., announced a general 10-cent wage boost and "equitable payments" to salaried workers.

National Steel Corporation started the "wage parade" with announcement of a 10-cent increase last week, just as it did in 1937. Thus the U.S. Steel Corporation, whose actions usually determine the industry's trend on prices and general policy, came last among the big producers in acceding to the wage boost.

Steel observers for days, however, have said that other contract provisions, rather than the wage question, had been the stumbling block in the negotiations.

Five Consecutive Days
The union also succeeded in establishing the principle of the five-consecutive-day work week in guarantees that 85 per cent of the employees will work on consecutive days and that all schedules that call for a departure from this practice shall be worked out by mutual agreement between company and union committees.

The signing of the contract lifts from the national defense picture any threat of a combined steel-coal strike by the C.I.O. and leaves the federal conciliators only the problem of the coal miners on their hands.

In the matter of adjusting grievances, the contract provides a procedure which calls for a settlement within a maximum time limit and, in cases where no agreement can be reached, to submit the question for arbitration.

The agreement provides that no employee may be discharged by the company without a prior hearing. The company, however, is allowed to impose a five-day suspension during which time the worker may, if he desires, ask for a hearing.

In connection with rate establishments and adjustments, the company has agreed to confer with the union grievance committee at the plant concerned before setting a new rate.

The basic $5 a day for the industry was set in S.W.O.C. contracts with U.S. Steel in March, 1937 and renewed in February, 1938.

The contract signed today by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation will serve as a master contract, with minor changes, for all the other U.S. steel subsidiaries.

S.W.O.C. officials said they would go first to Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Company; National Tube, American Steel and Wire and Columbia Steel with duplicate contracts. The other contracts would then follow, with all major provisions remaining the same.

IT'S IMPROVED! DOUBLY DELICIOUS! "GOLDEN SOFT" KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN NOW MADE FROM A SPECIAL WHEAT!

FROM ONE OF THE WORLD'S SOFTEST WHEATS

Copyright, 1941, by Kellogg Company

LOOK WHAT'S HAPPENED TO KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN—the natural laxative cereal that a million people eat every day.

NOW IT'S DOUBLY DELICIOUS! It is made of finer quality bran from one of the world's softest wheats. The improved ALL-BRAN is bright as shreds of gold—and so light and crisp! Ask your grocer for it today.

Americans expect a good product to keep on getting better through the years. That's why Kellogg's grain buyers, who buy more grain for ready-to-eat breakfast cereals than any other men in the world, have been seeking a wheat that would add new goodness to KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. A few months ago, they found it growing in the sunny valleys of the Pacific Coast states, and in a few mid-western and eastern areas.

It's one of the world's softest wheats—grown for especially fine pastry flour.

Put through ALL-BRAN's cooking and toasting ovens, the bran from this wheat came out bright as shreds of gold—and lighter, crisper, more delicately flavored than any we had used in more than 20 years of making this famous cereal.

And now the improved and more delicious ALL-BRAN is at your grocer's. If you or other members of your family are troubled with constipation due to lack of proper "bulk" in the diet, try the improved ALL-BRAN. It is just as effective as ever—but doubly delicious. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water and see if you don't forget all about constipation due to lack of "bulk."

ALL-BRAN is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. It is sold by grocers and served in restaurants everywhere.

LIGHTER! CRISPER! TRY IT FOR TOMORROW'S BREAKFAST

NOW, MORE THAN EVER, you'll like ALL-BRAN's better way to combat constipation due to lack of "bulk". Instead of taking doses you can correct the cause—by the pleasantest means you've ever known.

ENJOYABLE PROGRAM FOR FINE ARTS GROUP

Fine Arts department of the Women's club held an enjoyable meeting in the home of Mrs. Harry Gormley, 226 Fairfield avenue, Monday afternoon, a delightful program having been arranged for the occasion.

Mrs. J. W. Moorehead pleased the assemblage with three soprano solos, entitled "By the Bend of the River," "Al In An April Evening" and "Without a Song." Mrs. Paul A. Welch was her accompanist. Following Mrs. Keith McAfee contributed a most interesting and comprehensive review of Rebecca West's recent book "Black Lamb and Gray Falcon." It traces the journey of the author into the Balkan countries and relates histories of these, showing that long periods of war in which they engaged during the past times as well as the present, has a bearing on the whole of Europe.

Tea was served afterwards, the table being beautifully appointed in keeping with the spring motif. Flowers were used in profusion, and the president of the Woman's club, Mrs. John E. Elliott, and chairman of the Fine Arts group, Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine, poured. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. William A. Woodworth, Mrs. Fay Wimer, Mrs. F. G. Dieffenhofer, Mrs. Ernest Stitzinger and Mrs. Clarence Patterson.

"GYPSY" THEME MARKS QUEEN ESTHER BANQUET

Amidst a decorative setting of camp fires, tents, and bright colors of orange, green, red, yellow and a dash of black, the Queen Esther class annual banquet held in the dining room of the Third United Presbyterian church on Monday evening, proved a high success, the theme of the event being cleverly carried out in keeping with the "gypsy" motif. The tables were appointed with miniature figures and bonfires, while on the stage was a unique scene, typical of that entertained by gypsies.

The Copeland class members served a delicious full course menu at 6:30 o'clock, and the invocation was offered by Rev. C. R. Thayer, pastor. He with Mrs. Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rupert and Bernard Hook, were seated at the speakers table. Retiring president, Mrs. Wilbur McKibben, presented a lovely gift to their teacher, Mrs. Bernard Hook, and the latter in turn, gave Mrs. McKibben a beautiful remembrance in behalf of the assemblage.

The program followed: Mrs. McKibben gave greetings and Sal Renick presided as toastmistress in a capable manner. Mrs. William McGuire gave "Memoirs" of old, new and departed members; "Caravan Musings" were told cleverly by Betty Gray dealing with finances and social events of the class; Mrs. Cecil Potter, their new president made appropriate remarks; musical numbers on the accordion and guitar were given by Charles Farone and Edward Burns, guest artists.

A playlet "Gypsy Scouts" was offered as another high light. Those taking part were: Madre, Reba Sines; Captain, Marietta Daugherty; Queen, Mrs. John Ellis; Wild Flower, Mrs. Emerson Flansburg; Prince, Mrs. J. J. Kenahan; First Gypsy, Mrs. Morris Houk; Second Gypsy, Mrs. Lloyd Wimer; Third Gypsy, Mrs. Edward Bame; Fourth Gypsy, Mrs. David Jones; Messenger, Betty Gray; accompanist, Mrs. Virginia Stewart.

Other special guests were Mrs. Carl Hart, Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. William Bryan, Mrs. Charles Gee, Mrs. Howard Reynolds all of this city; Mrs. William McBride and Mrs. Cora Thompson of Ellwood City.

The committees composed of Sal Renick, Marietta Daugherty and Betty Gray on the program; Mrs. J. Kenahan, Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. Thomas Baskefield and Mrs. Emerson Flansburg on decorations; Mrs. John Ellis and Mrs. Morris Houk on refreshments.

The next meeting will be on Monday, May 5, the hostesses to be announced.

YOU CAN GET A $100 LOAN IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $6.97 A MONTH

No endorsers or guarantors needed . . .
Loan arranged in brief, private interview
A quick, simple way to get cash for emergencies

HAVE you a money problem which a personal loan will help you solve? Here is a simple way to borrow without endorsers or guarantors—and at rates substantially below the lawful maximum. If you have a job and can make monthly payments you are invited to come in and see us about getting a loan up to $100.

Suppose that you need $100. Find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payments convenient for you to make. Twelve monthly installments of $9.75 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. Or, as little as $6.97 a month for eighteen months, will also repay a $100 loan.

All you do

All you do to apply for your loan is to acquaint us with your problem. Loans are made on furniture, car or note.

But we attach far more importance to character and regular income than to the value of security. It is unnecessary to ask outsiders to sign the loan papers with you. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your credit.

Get your loan for less

The payments in the table include all charges. These charges are calculated at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge a substantially higher rate than this. Some finance companies do charge a higher rate. We publish our payments and rate of charge so that you may compare costs before you borrow.

Phone or visit us for full information without obligation.

Three Service Clubs Provide Relaxation At Camp Shelby, Miss.

(Special To The News)

CAMP SHELBY, Miss., April 12.—"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," may not be the official motto of the United States Army, but it is a truism by which the service clubs in the military camps have their being. Relaxation, entertainment, a second home: to these qualities the service clubs are dedicated.

Camp Shelby has three such clubs, the first to operate in the United States. Each of them has a large dance floor ("The best in Mississippi"), a dining room, a library, recreation facilities, and rooms for over-night guests of the soldiers. In a different location any of them would pass for a sumptuous and exclusive country club. Here, operated at minimum cost, every soldier in camp is a fully privileged member.

"I want this building to be a second home to the boys," said Miss Peggy Williams, looking around her at the Camp Shelby Non-Divisional Service club, of which she is the senior hostess. "I want it to be a place to which the boys of the 190th Field Artillery can come for entertainment and relaxation. I want them to be so proud and take such good care of it that the club would run even if we hostesses aren't here."

This, of course, would be impossible according to most observers. The four hostesses and their three soldier-wives assistants at this club are busy from reveille until the last note of the "jute box" at night. But the most important contribution of all from the soldier's point of view is the list of 450 girls that Miss Williams has in her personal file.

These girls are the ones invited to attend the weekly dances at the club. In the six weeks during which it has been operating there have been five informal and two formal dances. For all of the Miss Williams has had to provide several dozen girls.

Questioned where she found them, Miss Williams said that they all live in southern Mississippi towns scattered between here and New Orleans. A southern Mississippi girl herself, Miss Williams began her list by writing to respectable women throughout that area, and asking each of them to recommend girls they know to be first, virtuous, and second, good dancers. And girls thus qualified are acceptable.

Girls from the list invited to the dances are transported at government expense. They don't meet their soldier escorts until they arrive at the service club; they are chaperoned strictly during the dance, and they say goodbye at the door and are returned to their homes in the same way. No drinking is allowed in the building, and no one may smoke on the dance floor.

Miss Williams reports despite the initial distrust of soldiers the girls now clamor for invitations because they have been treated with so much respect and consideration.

Col. Samuel D. Wolfe, commanding officer of the 190th Field Artillery, says that it is one of the finest organizations of its type in the country. Responded Miss Williams: "Things are running so smoothly and with such benefit to the soldiers here only because Colonel Wolfe has given us such splendid cooperation. He's done everything possible to help."

Besides the service club's relaxation and amusement functions, the hostesses hope to make it a clearing house for talents. Miss Wilhelm Robinson, junior hostess in charge of music, gives every encouragement to singers and musicians. She coaches them and rehearses with them and then arranges concerts. She believes with Colonel Wolfe that the arts are just as important to the development of a smoothly functioning army as are some of the more military phases. Right now she's organizing a male chorus.

Dramatics are expected to play a large part in the programs, too. Miss Williams, who has had New York experience in acting and coaching, plans to organize a group theatre. Not only will she teach acting, she says, but she's going to teach the soldiers how to build and move scenery, operate lights and even write plays.

Miss Mary Eley, junior hostess and librarian, already has 700 books and numberless magazines for distribution, and expects to have a lot more soon. Beside, she is teaching contract bridge to any soldier who wants to learn.

The cafeteria, not yet operating, will be in charge of Miss Melville Hunt, dietetics expert. Miss Hunt, confined now by lack of equipment to selling no more than ice cream, soft drinks and candy, says that in a few weeks she hopes to show these Pennsylvania boys some of the famous southern cooking.

Surprising to most visitors is the fact that the tremendous building and the adjoining guest house are operated so inexpensively. Bed and room for guests is only 50 cents a night. Food is sold at cost.

When such visitors show too much surprise, one of the hostesses explains that the building and its equipment were paid for by the war department, then handed to a service club officer and the four hostesses to maintain. They must meet expenses every month, but they are not allowed to show a cash profit. In consequence, they have to struggle to keep their books neither red nor black.

With no cost to the War Department more than the initial outlay, according to Colonel Wolfe, the service clubs pay their way a thousand times over by the return they make in morale.

Game Commission Seeks To Prevent Burning Big Fields

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 15.—The Pennsylvania game commission has appealed to farmers and home owners to refrain from burning huge areas of over-grown fields because of the danger to life and property.

According to reports received from agents in the field, game officials declared that the practice of burning brush and grass has created a problem in the care of wildlife. Huge sections, in some instances as much as 50 acres, have been burned, destroying chicory, ragweed and other types of desirable wildlife food.

The commission stated that limited burning entailed little damage but firing huge sections is dangerous to human lives and property, especially in the vicinity of woodlands or buildings.

Planes of the 103rd observation squadron, based at Harrisburg, will fly back and forth over the city during the simulated bombing attack. The blackout, Col. Burr said, will last 15 to 20 minutes, and will be similar to tests conducted in other American cities.

Telephone News Devoted To Safety

Current Issue Of Bell Telephone Magazine Stresses Safety In Defense

April's issue of The Telephone News, which is published by employees of the Bell Telephone Company to promote their interests and those of the company, is devoted to safety.

There are some pertinent articles on various phases of the prevention of accidents and disasters, and safety records of employees are given more than passing mention.

Of the 84 new safe drivers of the company, men who have driven 100,000 miles without an accident, tribute is paid to Kenneth Ward Reimold, station representative of this city, John R. Stover, of Rochester, which is in the New Castle district, is also so honored.

Local promotions listed in this issue include Jeanne E. Hartland and Miriam L. Wimer, from Operator to Senior Operators, while among those listed as having completed 25 years of service with the company is Elizabeth C. Travers, of New Castle Traffic Department, who attained her anniversary on April 7.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Ban Loafing On Neshannock Bridge

Signs declaring that loafing is prohibited on the East Washington street bridge over the Neshannock creek were being painted today and the order will be enforced, according

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 15.—The "revelation" by H. H. Bailey, secretary to U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey, that the Democratic leader intends to run for governor in 1942 caused scarcely a ripple in capital circles. Whatever thought was given to the announcement in purely political circles, deduced that perhaps the trial balloon was just an effort on Guffey's part to deflect some of the opposition against Luther Harr, of Philadelphia, who has long been considered Guffey's candidate for the nomination.

As the story goes, Bailey was attending a dinner of Guffey friends at Bellefonte when he suddenly interjected into the conversation the announcement that "Joe's going to run for governor." "It was terrific," said one of the group later. "A bundle of dynamite sticks—lighted, capped and fused—couldn't have produced the effect that Bailey's announcement got." . . . However that may be, when the report got to Harrisburg, National Committeeman David L. Lawrence and John B. Kelly, Philadelphia Democratic chairman, neither friendly to Guffey, were said to have found the announcement excuriatingly funny.

Despite personal animosities an attempt will be made to agree on one candidate. . . . Democrats feel the governorship is "in the bag" if they can unite behind a strong man.

The Lovett bill to set up an independent board to hear appeals from "unjust and arbitrary" regulations of state departments, boards and commissions will probably remain in committee until the end of the legislative session, according to Democratic leaders. . . . The act would have appropriated $20,000 for a regulatory board of review composed of nine members. . . . "Jim" Lovett, of Westmoreland, Democratic House whip and the bill's sponsor, made a nice speech for the measure, following which the bill was recommitted. . . . Democratic leaders said purpose of the bill was merely to bring to the attention of state executives the importance of curbing regulations which might be regarded as unnecessary and arbitrary.

While no action is expected to be taken on it, a resolution introduced in the House gives emphasis to the need for restricting the inflow of bills in order to reduce the cost of the huge legislative printing bill. . . . The resolution points out that during the past three regular sessions a total of 3,585 bills were introduced of which only 1,882 were passed. . . . "It often happens," stated the resolution, "that at one session a half dozen bills bearing on the same subject and seeking the same remedy are introduced." . . . The resolution proposed that a committee of nine be set up to suggest remedies.

Many legislators feel that because of the war the legislature should wind up its business quickly and go home. . . . Legislative leaders do not agree, however. "We have our work to do," commented Majority Leader Leo A. Acterman. . . . But Senate Minority Leader Harry Shapiro conceded that "we're wasting a lot of time."

Says Spring Fever Definite Ailment

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., April 15.—Spring fever, that down-in-the-doldrums feeling that afflicts all of us about this time of the year, no longer is something which our prim old Aunt Hattie can sneer at as "just plain laziness."

It has been elevated to and dignified as a definite ailment by no less an authority than Ohio Health Commissioner R. H. Markwith.

Dr. Markwith stated flatly and positively that spring fever is—definitely—spring fever. Warm weather, he explained, particularly the first warm weather of spring affects the system in the same way it is affected when one walks into a warm room from a crisp, wintry out-of-doors. That delicious drowsiness is a recognized after-effect.

When you have spring fever, Dr. Markwith stated, you are suffering primarily from a lack of vitamin D in the liver. The system becomes depleted during the winter when sunlight is at a premium. When the system attempts to respond to those pleasant spring-like temperatures, the result is spring fever.

But lest you prepared to enjoy the attack to too great an extent, Dr. Markwith pointed out a cure—part of it pleasant, part of it drastic. The pleasant part of the cure calls for plenty of fresh high-vitamin vegetables. The drastic part of it was a bit of advice: "Keep your mind on your work."

Dig out the brass ring for Building Superintendent Cliff James. Mr. James takes down first honors for the first grass cutting of the season. On Monday he had the power motor out giving the terraced lawns a boyish bow, which seems to be the first lawn mowing of the spring.

Mr. James is not quite sure why the court house lawns grow so profusely. He has a theory that the warm air emanating from the court room is wafted out onto the grass and the grass believing it is in a hot house does an all out for production.

Next Saturday morning the officers of the court house can take a rest. The Boy Scouts are taking over and each office will be filled by a scout. Usually there is an argument about who is to be the sheriff or the judge.

Miss Sara Weinschenk of the county commissioner's office has received word that her nephew, I. E. George Jr., of the Air Signal Corps at Onahu, Hawaii, T. H., has been promoted to a corporal. He is a local boy who has been in the

HOW TO SWITCH BABY FROM BOTTLE TO SELF-FEED- ING WITH EASE

When the time comes to take baby off an exclusively liquid diet and get him started feeding himself, more than one mother has the problem on her hands that is described in a letter from a reader:

"My child is over two years old, and still he refuses to use a spoon or drink from a cup. He insists on a bottle. I've tried everything, even to not giving him the bottle and letting him get hungry but it doesn't seem to do any good."

She doesn't provide other details, but I'll wager the trouble is the result of too abrupt a change. The transition requires planning and patience. It isn't at all easy for the child accustomed to getting his nourishment simply by using his lips, to coordinate his movements and skillfully maneuver a spoon, fork or cup to his mouth. He can no more change over abruptly than an adult accustomed to knife and fork can suddenly start eating adeptly with chopsticks. Trying to force his progress in this doesn't help matters.

It must be remembered that at the same time the child is being switched to these implements, he is also usually being introduced to new foods or preparations of foods. That is his whole eating habits are being changed. Consider how hard it is for you to change your own habits radically.

Less or no difficulty will be experienced in effecting the transition if a short time before he is to begin to use spoon and cup at his meals, the eating utensils are placed before him on his highchair or table as has his bottle. Inevitably he will begin to handle them and to put them in his mouth as he does nearly everything else within reach. If he sees adults eating with them, he will imitate their movements. Thus in a short time, without forcing, he will be handling cup and spoon just as you want him to do. Then you can begin to give him small portions of solid food to eat with them after he has had his bottle. Soon he will be ready to eat all food from a plate.

Not long ago a group of pediatricians made some interesting observations of a large number of children in this transition stage. They found that babies who were introduced to cup and spoon in the manner described above, made much faster progress in learning to feed themselves, than other babies. The children given this "conditioning" never insisted on a bottle after a year and a half. Children who had been subjected to forceful methods were sometimes three and a half years old before they could be weaned completely from a bottle.

A baby is a lot like a grownup in so many more ways than many parents realize. You can accomplish a great deal more with one with guile and diplomacy than you can with threats and force.

Buncknell College President Slated For Emergency Post

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 15. — Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, president of Buncknell University, Lewisburg, was slated today for election as executive director of Pennsylvania's emergency defense board.

The post is comparable to that occupied by William S. Knudsen as head of the office of production management in Washington. Dr. Marts probably will be named tomorrow when he appears before the 11-member state council of defense in Governor James' office.

The task before the council is to provide an overall cooperative direction of Pennsylvania's mighty defense effort. It was learned that Dr. Marts' name was selected from a list which included industrialists, political leaders and business men.

Election of an executive director will be attended by an official proclamation by the governor establishing the council. The latter was empowered by legislative statute to set up the emergency arm of the government.

Wife Got Fat No Longer Attractive LOST HUSBAND'S LOVE

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper in connection with a divorce trial that had attracted wide attention: "She was a beautiful woman," one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do if you are fat, how would you like to lose some of it and at the same time gain in physical charm and attractiveness—more energy—greater activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take ½ teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts (a famous English formula) in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for thirty days. Out pastries and fatty meats and go light on white bread, potatoes, butter and cream. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts will last you for 4 weeks and costs but little. Ask Ecker's Drug Store or any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen, plain or new effervescent—sparkling—pleasant—and start today to lose fat. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.

TURKEY RUSHES EMERGENCY DEFENSE MEASURES

Fear Sudden Nazi Smash

Apprehension In Turkey Over Possible Attack Of Dardanelles

GERMAN PROGRAM CREATES ANXIETY

By CEDRIC SALTER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ISTANBUL, April 15.—Turkey rushed new emergency defense measures today to protect herself against a possible sudden Nazi smash against the Dardanelles.

Apprehension spread rapidly as a result of German invasion of Greece and Yugoslavia and German claims that British forces already are evacuating Greece for a defense of Egypt and the Suez canal.

The Ankara government pushed large-scale recruiting among students of the University of Istanbul to join a special corps trained to combat parachutists.

Fears regarding the German program spread with revelation that Germany this week plans to conduct extensive naval and air maneuvers off the Black Sea coasts of German-occupied Rumania and Bulgaria near the Soviet Black Sea coasts.

Twenty German U-boats, shipped down the Danube river, will participate in these maneuvers, it was reported.

The submarines were dismantled before being shipped down the river, then re-assembled at the Rumanian port of Constanza.

Advices Americans To Leave

Turkish school teachers were ordered to refrain from travelling so they would be available to organize and lead evacuations of school children from threatened areas in the event of war.

Seriousness of the situation was high-lighted yesterday when the United States consul-general in Istanbul for the third time advised all American citizens in Turkey to leave for home as soon as possible.

Despite the menace to the Dardanelles resulting from the German advance to the Aegean through Grecian Thracie, it was learned that a Turko-German trade agreement will be signed by this week.

Under terms of the pact Turkey will send opium for medical purposes to Germany in exchange for German medicines.

(Editor's Note: Martin Agronsky, NBC correspondent at Ankara, said Turkish diplomats would not be surprised to see Germany offer Turkey a non-aggression treaty.)

At the same time it was reported a political mission from Iraq, where a pro-Axis regime was established last week, soon will arrive in Turkey to strengthen ties between the two countries under the treaty of Saarabad.

Iraq is of great strategic importance since it contains the chief Mesopotamian oil fields controlled by Britain, which supply most of the fuel for Britain's eastern Mediterranean fleet.

State Relief Rolls Dropping

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 15.—Private industry's demands upon the state direct relief rolls today were reported by the department of public assistance to be the heaviest in almost a year and a half.

During the week ended April 5, the department stated, a net total of 845 cases were removed from the rolls due to openings in private employment while the turnover in the W. P. A. load—reflecting demands for workers—accounted for a net decrease of 1427 cases. Transfers to other types of assistance served to reduce the load by 174 cases.

At the end of the week state assistance rolls totaled 132,323 cases—325,317 persons—representing a drop of approximately 511,000 persons or more than 60 per cent. From the peak of $36,000 reached in August 1939. Net expenditures for the week amounted to $779,528—a decrease of $16,275 from the previous week.

'Test Tube' Calf Is Not Snooty About Heritage

(International News Service)
POESTENKILL, N. Y.—A calf owned by John H. Holser isn't a bit snooty toward the rest of the herd, although it has the distinction of being the first "test tube" calf to be born in this section of the country.

The calf was born recently to a Holstein cow in Mr. Holser's herd. Its father is Carnation Governor Prince, a Holstein bull in the herd of B. J. Morrison, St. Lawrence county.

The experiment was conducted under the supervision of veterinarians, who reported considerable interest in artificial breeding by dairy-men.

Army Celebrates Flying Cadet Week

Flags Should Be Displayed All This Week According To Army Sergeant

This week, the army of the United States is celebrating "Flying Cadet Week." Last Friday, Mayor Charles B. Mayne, issued a proclamation setting aside the week locally as flying cadet week.

In his proclamation, Mayor Mayne called upon all citizens, civic, patri-tic and military organizations, stores and business concerns to display flags and appropriate decorations during the week.

Flags are being flown daily at the schools, the V. F. W., Neshannock Post, and at the American Legion Home. Sergeant Owen E. Tighe, officer-in-charge of the New Castle Army Recruiting Station, and chairman for the week's program, asks that everyone who has a flag display it prominently for the balance of the week.

Recommendations Made For Improving State Government Efficiency

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 15.—In what was labeled the most comprehensive report since the Sterling proposals were presented in 1933, the General Assembly has 22 recommendations aimed at improving the efficiency of state government.

Stressing the need for curbing the wasteful expenditure of the taxpayer's money, the report and recommendations on the organization and administration of state government, first of its kind ever compiled, was presented in both houses of the state legislature by Republican leaders.

The 1250-page statement, described as "a Bible for all state legislators," was compiled by A. Alfred Wasserman, former director of the joint state government commission.

"The study," a Republican state committee spokesman said, "was made over a period of one and one-half years and reviews the functions, duties, powers, organization, personnel, administration and expenditures in each department."

It was pointed out that the Wasserman report is more extensive than the Sterling committee report of 1931-33 which failed to prove the financial problems and expenditures of state government as deeply as the present study.

Highlights Of Report

Highlights of the report are:

1. Transfer of the collection of inheritance taxes from the auditor general to the revenue department, as well as the appointment of the mercantile and inheritance tax appraisers.
2. Check the tremendous loss and waste of money in duplicate auditing by eliminating overlapping departmental functions.
3. Removal of the department of internal affairs from the administrative code. A bill to this effect is now moving through the General Assembly.
4. Creation of a bureau of local government finances in the department of internal affairs to assist local governments in the administration of their affairs.
5. Establishment of civil service in the state health department with other changes necessary to increase the efficiency of that department. (Recommended by Gov. Arthur H. James.)
6. Merger of the bureau of unemployment compensation in the department of labor and industry with other bureaus and units into consolidated civil service.
7. Increased appropriations for vocational training and retaining.
8. Co-ordination of inspector and investigation service to simplify efficiency and validity of reports in various departments.
9. Amend present milk laws to permit milk consignment agreements under jurisdiction of the milk commission. (Introduced in senate by Weidon B. Heyburn, (R) Delaware.)
10. Consolidation of the state civil service system for potential adoption of all departments.
11. Establishment of a special unit to analyze the correctness of all legislative measures pertaining to various departments to curb wasteful expenditures to correct needless errors.
12. To boost the status of state farmers by co-operative program under supervision of state agriculture department to develop crops now being converted by science into vital defense uses.

Testing Water At New Wilmington

Seek Method To Eliminate Discoloration—Other News Of Town

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 15.—During the past week, the wells of the New Wilmington Water Company have been undergoing a series of tests at the hands of New Castle and Pittsburgh chemists to determine just what can be done to improve the condition of the water.

B. French Johnson, New Castle Water Co. chemist, has made several tests at the wells, and the company is awaiting the outcome of these tests in order to determine the best method for improvement. Chief complaint with the water is its discoloration, which, although harmless, is inconvenient for washing.

A chemist from the Zeolite Company, of Pittsburgh, has also investigated the situation, and has taken samples of the water back to Pittsburgh for testing.

S. B. Cleal, president of the New Wilmington Water Co., feels that the rapidity with which the company has begun to alleviate the condition demonstrates a sincere intent to cooperate with the borough.

GRANGE MEETING

At the regular meeting of the New Wilmington Grange, Miss Lydia Evers was obligated into the office of "Flora." A sound and technicolor film, "Vitamins On Parade," shown by A. S. Flicker, of New Castle, provided the entertainment. Mr. Flicker was introduced by Burgess Wallace McKean.

The Junior Grange plans a county-wide initiation in the near future.

Now Just Where May Be "Fringed Gential Swamp?"

Where is the "Fringed Gential Swamp" near the City of New Castle?

Some inquiry around the county has revealed a total lack of knowledge of the place upon the part of those asked and yet there appears to be such a swamp.

In the "Circular Of Information" published several months ago by the Pennsylvania Academy of Science a short article appears upon conservation. Reference is made to a paper written in 1930 by Dr. O. E. Jennings of the University of Pittsburgh entitled "Areas of Biological Interest in Western Pennsylvania Deserving Preservation."

According to the paper unique flora and fauna exists in five spots mentioned and he pleads for their conservation. The places named are Presque Isle at Erie, Pymatuning Swamp, Mercer Bog-Lake, Fringed Gential Swamp near New Castle and Obiopolle in Fayette County.

The Pymatuning Swamp has gone since the writing of the article, sacrificed in the interests of flood prevention and stabilization of water in the Shenango River.

The Fringed Gential Swamp near New Castle is a stranger to the writer of this article. Does any reader of The News know where it is?

AROUND CITY HALL

Council met Monday in city hall and the city clerk, C. Ed. Brown read bids for removal of the "Munty" hospital, located on Sylvan Heights golf course. No contract was awarded. The bids were as follows: Joseph T. McCullough, $25,000; George Teeza, $106,500 (which includes the heating system); Robert E. Jones, alternate bids of $225,500 for the building and $251,000, with heating system; E. H. Criswell, $201,500, for building and contents and J. R. Rick company, $300. Council will make a recommendation within a few days.

Traffic Commissioner Thomas Jones has indicated that within the near future parking of vehicles on the east side of Spruce street between County Line and East Washington street, would be prohibited. Jones also stated that soon yellow traffic lines and white lines for pedestrian lanes would be painted.

When council met Monday in city hall there was referred to the council committee a petition which asked for paving in Clearview avenue between Luton street and a point near Phillips street. The distance is 684 feet.

Neal Williams, clerk in the city bureau of building, gave a permit to remodel a two story dwelling at 20 Montgomery street at a cost of $20 and Vincenzo Marabito was given permission to build a garage at a cost of $50 at 14 West Cherry street.

War Department Needs Doctors

Selective Service Boards Asked To Assist In Recruiting Physicians And Surgeons

Assistance of local Selective Service boards has been solicited in an effort to secure medical officers for the United States army, according to a memorandum received by them today.

The memorandum from Selective Service Director William Mather Lewis, at Harrisburg, states that the war department is badly in need of medical officers and desires to commission fully qualified physicians and surgeons in the Medical Corps Reserve for immediate active duty of one year.

It has been suggested to the local boards that they communicate with registrants who are licensed physicians and surgeons and encourage them to apply for reserve commissions in the Medical Corps.

It is desirable, the memorandum continues, to avoid inducing men who can qualify for such commissions and be made available for immediate active duty. This applies, of course, only to graduates of approved medical schools, who are licensed or eligible to be licensed to practice medicine in Pennsylvania.

Registrants should apply direct for commissions, it is stated, addressing their inquiries to "Corps Area Surgeon, H. Q., Third Corps Area, United States Army, Baltimore, Md."

Ministers Hear Ambridge Pastor

Dr. W. W. McKinney Addresses Association; Plan Luncheon For Rev. Pearson

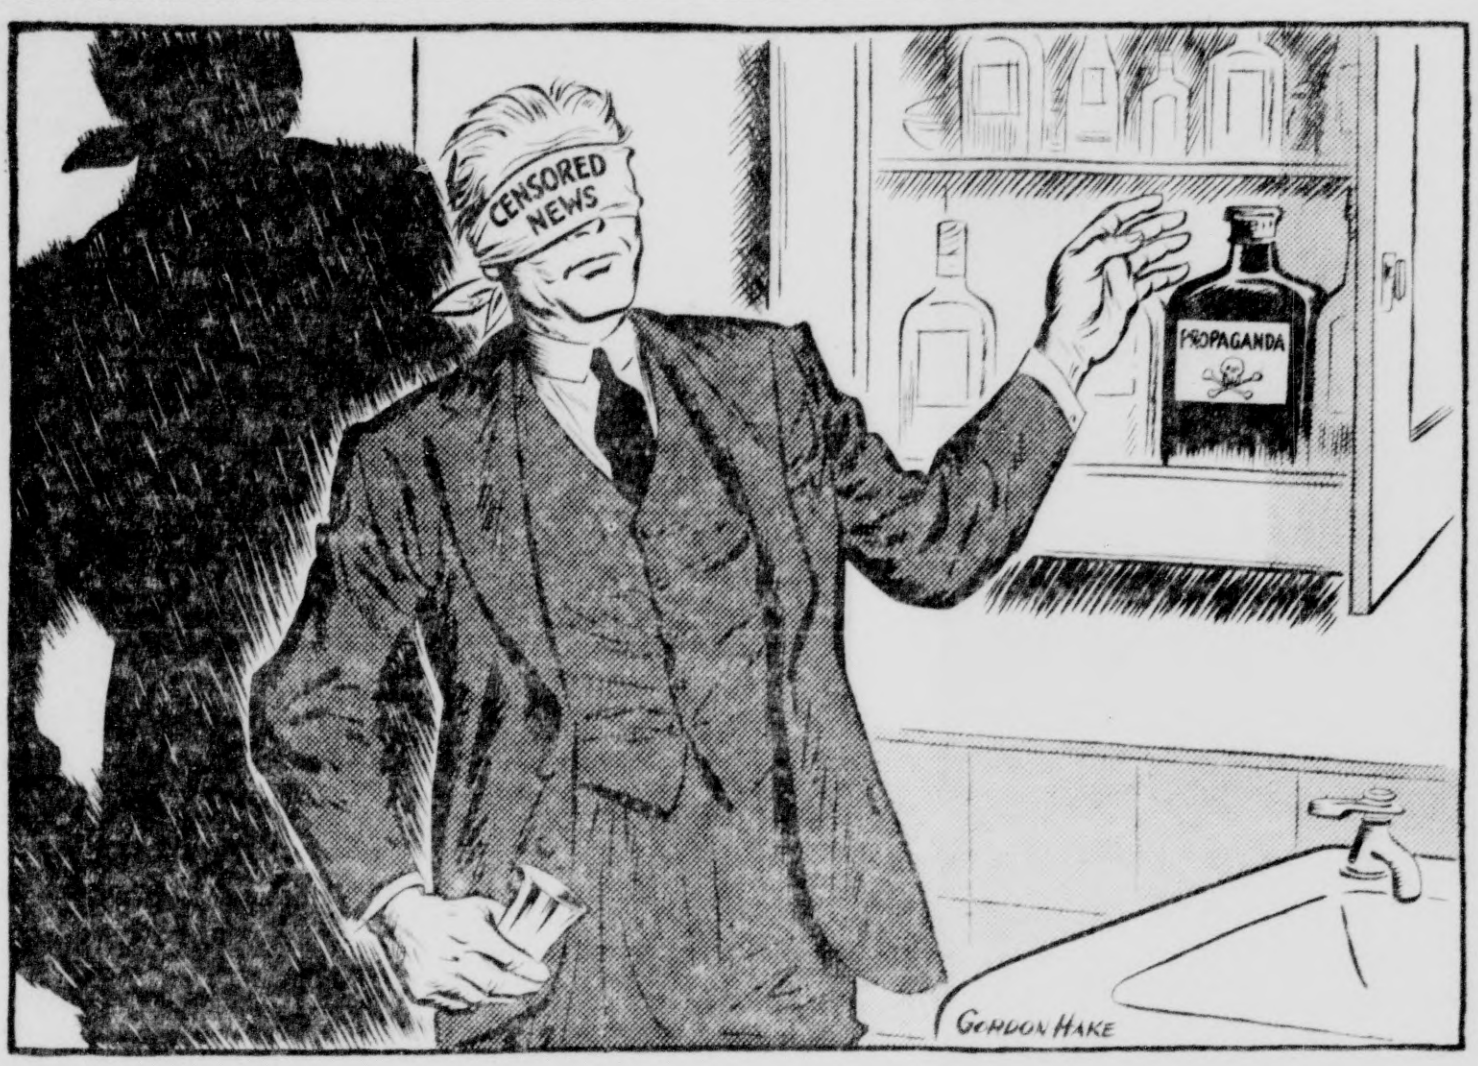

"Psychology After Fifty Years" was the subject chosen by Dr. W. W. McKinney, pastor of the Ambridge Presbyterian church, when he spoke most interestingly before the New Castle Ministerial Association in the First Presbyterian church Monday.

Rev. A. M. Stump presided at this meeting and devotions were led by Rev. C. R. Thayer. The radio committee report was given by Rev. R. B. Withers, after which a motion was passed that ministers have a farewell luncheon for Rev. P. C. Pearson of Trinity church who is leaving soon. Revs. R. B. Withers, G. S. Bennett and S. E. Irvine were appointed as a committee to have charge of this event.

Dr. Grant E. Fasher introduced the speaker, Dr. McKinney, who is also moderator of the Synod of Pennsylvania, the largest synod in the Presbyterian church. Following his well-prepared and well-presented paper, there was a discussion and a vote of thanks was given the speaker. The meeting closed with prayer by Rev. A. W. Smith.

On Monday morning, April 28, at 10:30 o'clock, the association will meet again in the First Presbyterian church.

The good-neighbor policy may require some Latin music, but the best neighbors are the ones you don't hear too much of.

Look Out! . . . PROPAGANDA!

BY NORMAN CHANDLER, CHAIRMAN, NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS COMMITTEE

HAVE you ever noticed how clearly and carefully the NEWS in your newspaper is LABELED?

Dispatches tell you WHERE the news came from; WHO said WHAT; and, whenever possible, why he said it, and what the OTHER side was.

Newspapers HAVE to be this careful. True, you, the reader, can't check up on them YOURSELF, but, in a country where freedom of speech and thought exists, no newspaper can LIVE if it tells lies. Other newspapers, or even your free-speaking neighbors, would quickly expose any deliberate "propaganda" to you.

* * *

In a democracy where every citizen is a voter, a PARTICIPANT in government, some way has to be devised to INFORM the citizen. Some way must be found to insure that he gets the TRUTH at all times.

And what we call "free speech" does the trick! If the government could suppress any paper that disagreed with it, how long do you think you would hear the TRUTH about the government?

* * *

You, the citizen, have given over to the unmuzzled American press the job of WARNING you of dangers, informing you of the behavior of the world.

You, the citizen, need never grope about blindfolded—as long as you'll be very stubborn about ONE THING:

Keep the right of all men to speak out publicly. Bind the press, as you have, only with fetters of truth and decency!

Over 300 leading newspaper publishers join together to bring you this weekly message about the function of the press in a free nation. Newspaper Publishers Committee, 420 Lexington Ave., New York.

Aim To Prevent Use Of Motor Funds For Other Purposes

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, April 15.—The house prepared to enact today a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to restrict the borrowing of money from the motor license and other special state funds.

The resolution, which was introduced by Rep. J. Noble Hirsch (D)

Schuykill, has the backing of the Democratic caucus and is therefore assured of passage. Following house enactment it goes to the senate for concurrence.

The resolution amends article three of the state constitution by providing that the general assembly cannot authorize the transfer of funds for any purpose other than that for which the money was previously designated "unless repayment thereof within the same biennium is provided for by appropriate revenue-producing enactments." Before becoming effective the resolution must be approved by two legislatures and the electorate.

Trout Fishermen Whipping Streams

Estimate Over 200,000 Will Try Luck As 1941 Trout Season Gets Under Way

Streams Well Stocked During Off-Season, No Exceptionally Large Catches Expected

By LEONARD APPELBAUM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 15.—Favorable weather and water, an army of fishermen flung the trout season's first cast today in streams throughout Pennsylvania.

Light rains and cloudiness in eastern Pennsylvania failed to dim the ardor of the more than 200,000 persons, who authorities estimated, whipped the swollen streams in the year's initial test between rod and reel and silver, fighting fury.

The season opened officially at 12:01 a. m. but long before that time followers of Isaac Walton were encamped beside their favorite "fishing hole," waiting to match their wits with the brook, brown and rainbow trout.

Streams Heavily Stocked
The state's No. 1 fisherman, however, failed to cast fly or opening day. Gov. Arthur I. James, pressed with the duties of office, said he had "two or three good spots in mind but was unable to fish them today. 'I may take time out later,' he said.

Meanwhile, fish commissioner C. A. French declared that more than 1,000,000 trout had been stocked in Pennsylvania streams prior to the opening of the season, particularly in the central portions of the state.

The northwestern tier was not stocked too heavily, it was explained due to heavy snows hampering fish truck operations. No particular shortage of good fishing was foreseen in that area, however.

No exceptionally large catches were forecast for the first day because of the condition of Pennsylvania streams. Swollen by heavy rains and an unusual amount of snow in the upper watersheds, rivers and creeks rose dangerously near flood level two weeks ago and although subsiding rapidly, were considered still too high for good fishing. The waters were reported clean, however.

May Change Time
This year will probably mark the last time anglers will be permitted to catch their creel limit of 10 of one or all three combined species before sunrise. A bill in the general assembly, waiting executive ap-

The New Castle ladies tenpin bowling team motored to Beaver Falls last night for the playoff match of the season with the Beaver Falls McCray girls team and won a splendid victory rolling 2,178 for a total against 2,052 for the losers. High score for the match and also high total went to Mildred Erickson of the Beaver Falls team, the young lady having a very fine 201 score her second game and a grand total of 511, which is very good for women bowlers. Mrs. Ruth Anderson of the New Castle team was high three-game total for the locals with 465, followed by Hazel Steinbrink with 460. Mrs. Evelyn Cox of the local team rolled high single game of 175.

On Monday, April 21, the New Castle ladies tenpin team will go to Beaver Falls to have a match with the Beaver Falls Women of Moose club team. The match will be rolled at the club alleys.

A. A. Flag Chase Starts Thursday

Columbus Red Birds Picked By Experts As Team To Beat This Season

American Association League rivals start their merry chase for championship honors Thursday. The opening day program finds St. Paul playing at Columbus; Milwaukee clashing at Indianapolis; Louisville entertaining last season's winner, Kansas City, and Minneapolis playing at Toledo.

Sorrel-topped George M. Trautman, league prey, says that, "There will be no set-ups in the league this year."

Experts have picked Columbus as the club to beat this season. Minneapolis ranks as one of the toughest of the New York Yankees, still is a question mark. Louisville figures to be a topnotcher. Indianapolis looms as one of the poorest outfits.

Angel Defeats Kashey In Third

Frenchman Employs Body Slam To Down Kashey In Arena

SONNY HORNE TO BOX BILLY GARRETT

Obviously the fans of this city have given the grapplers the "Go" sign here last night, less than $200 worth of cash customers having wended their way into The Arena to see the million dollar freak, The Angel, in private life, match holds with Abe Kashey, the King Kong of wrestling. The Angel won in the third round having downed Kashey after 3 minutes and 54 seconds of that stanza with a body slam. They are heavyweights.

The Golden Greek, George Macracostas, and Tiger Taskay, a Canadian who sported a beard, put on a great show in the semi-final. The Canadian gave the Greek a tussle for a while but the Greek was not to be denied and won with a Suplex hold in the fourth round.

Zeus Wilcheskie, former Boston College griddler, won from Joe Novak in one minute and 10 seconds of the fourth round with a body press and body slam. Wilcheskie had height and weight on Novak.

The Jefferson Athletic club promoted the bouts. The referee was Tex Mayhew, of Pittsburgh; judges, Tommy Jones and Phil Greer; timekeeper, Billy Pazzone, and announcer, Charles Walther.

Good Fight Scheduled
Eddie Fritz, Jr., deputy of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, which will be the last in view of the financial lacing the Jefferson A. C. received.

Before the last bout, or The Angel vs. Abe Kashey show went on, all of the young boys who had gathered outside The Arena to hear the returns were admitted free to the show and enjoyed the treat.

It was announced that Sonny Horne, who lost out in the finals of the National A. A. U. would oppose Billy Garrett, of Pittsburgh, in the main welterweight boxing bout here April 28.

The battle will be staged for the benefit of the General Fire Department and the Horne-Garrett fight should be one of the greatest of amateur bouts since the professional days of the Jolly bowl.

Hold First Shoot Wednesday Night

H. N. Drio, secretary of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association, today announced that the first shoot of the spring season will be held on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the New Castle Fair Grounds.

The event is open to the public.

Sports potpourri: News emanating from Knoxville indicates that Paul "Lefty" Minner may stick with the Southern Association league team. The towering New Wilmington young man, who is listed as a pitcher, has been starting in another department—hitting. Because of his clubbing technique, Minner may be shifted to first, if he fails to hit the peak as a peger. In a game last week, Paul whacked a pair of round trippers.

Socrates "Socks" Roussos and Vic "Blackie" Nocera, ex-New Castle High stars, are branching out into collegiate baseball. The localities grace the Virginia Wesleyan's diamond roster. Roussos is a first baseman while Nocera is trying his hand at pitching. Roussos is also a stand-out griddler. Nocera's favorite is basketball, a game in which he usually manages to pot at least a dozen points per tiff.

Dom Demico, one of New Castle's smoothest duckpin bowlers, brought home $10 as a result of a 974 count in the national rubber band singles tourney, held in Pittsburgh recently. Demico finished in a deadlock for sixth place. Sam Richards and Paul Hoskins, members of the extinct New Castle Pords basketball team, will be among the speakers at a banquet honoring Cal Bolster, veteran referee, May 10 in Pittsburgh.

Barlund Suspended With His Manager For Period Of Year

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 15.—The first important decision of the newly reorganized Illinois boxing commission, ordering a $3,000 purse of heavyweight boxer Gunnar Barlund turned over to the state treasury and suspension of Barlund and his manager, Paul Damski, for one year, faced an appeal today to the state courts.

The decision was made for the eighth round in his April 4 fight with Billy Conn of Pittsburgh at the Chicago stadium. When Barlund failed to resume fighting, Referee Barney Ross awarded a technical knockout victory to Conn.

Damski today declared he was "within the rights of a fight manager in ordering Barlund to quit," and announced he would appeal to a civil court for revocation of the board's order. At yesterday's hearing, Damski said that Barlund's face was so badly cut and that he was so badly beaten he had fears for the health of his fighter if he was permitted to continue.

Joe Triner, president of the National Boxing Association, said the NBA would enforce the Illinois board's ruling in every state ruled over by that body.

Night Ball For Washington Club

Nocturnal Clashes In 1940 Draw 1,558,021; Seventy-Five Games Played

Clark Griffith, major domo of the Washington Senators, has finally joined the night baseball parade. Washington, the ninth major league outfit to adopt the night game, will inaugurate the owl sport this season.

Some 1,558,021 fans passed the turnstiles for the 75 games played during 1940.

Cleveland led the attendance parade with 234,671 fans, followed by the White Sox who lured 228,703 customers.

Managers Will Meet Tonight

The City Baseball league managers and officials will have a meeting tonight at the St. Joseph Parish hall at 8 o'clock, for the express purpose of getting all of the opening of the season details out of the way.

All managers who intend to take out or have taken out franchises this season are asked to be at the meeting or have a representative on hand. It is possible that contracts for the managers will be ready for distribution tonight.

A tenth team is being sought, with nine teams assured of franchises at the writing. An opening date will be picked by the managers tonight. Rev. Fr. Peter Schirra, president of the league, will appoint a schedule committee tonight to draw up the list of games.

SPORTSMEN'S COUNCIL

Sportsmen's Council of Lawrence County meets on Friday evening starting at 8 o'clock in the Ellwood-Wampum Rod and Gun Club, Ellwood-Wampum road, H. N. Drio, secretary, announced today.

Baseball: Larry French, one of the hardest working pitchers in the majors, needs 23 more triumphs to reach the 200 win mark. Lou Novikoff uses a 37-ounce bat, the heaviest in the Cub dugout since the days of Riggs Stephenson.

Middle Atlantic league draws the curtain on May 1 on an eight-team loop instead of a six. Zanesville, O., and Erie are new teams entered this season.

The American association league flag chase starts on Thursday. The New York Yankees have been installed as a 7-5 shot to cop the American league banner by Jack Doyle, nationally known bookmaker. Arky Vaughn ranks as the highest paid gent on the Pittsburgh Pirate roster. He gets about $17,000. Ted Williams has patched up his differences with Boston scribes.

BoBo Newsom, Detroit pitcher, says he became a better chucker last year because he sidetracked his plan of arguing with umpires. During the Citrus league tour, "Lefty" Gomez pitched 34 innings in six games, yielding 22 hits but only four runs. The Washington Senators lost but seven games during spring training. The Yanks, however, walked away with honors among the 16 major league outfits, winning 23 and dropping 9. The Senators won 17. The Pirates and White Sox dropped the most number of clashes, 17.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Officials and managers of teams in the Lawrence County Baseball loop will convene at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Sport Goods store for the purpose of organizing for the coming season. Officials hope to enroll several city teams in the parent baseball body of the county. The loop is composed of Medusa of Wampum, White Sox of Wampum, Bessemer, Brent, New Galilee and Ellwood City. The latter captured the 1940 pennant, winning from Bessemer in the play-off. Alec Samuels is president of the organization.

Teams of professional boxers now in the services will take part in an army-navy boxing show—the first of many now planned—at Jacksonville, Fla., on May 17, under promotion of Mike Jacobs and Lieut. Commander Gene Tunney, director of naval sports activity. The proceeds of all the shows—which will have free use of Jacobs' complete ring equipment—will go to the infantile paralysis fund. The equipment will be transported from city to city by army trucks. Among the service fighters are Steve Belloise, Cal Cagni, Patsy Peroni, Al Nettlow, Tommy Tucker, Frank Poreda, Al Davis, Marty Servo, Jimmy Casa, Mello Bettina and others. Joe Louis, Billy Conn, Ken Overlin, Fritz Zivic, Lew Jenkins, Lou Nova, Abe Simon, Billy Soose, Jimmy Webb, Gus Lesnevich and other prominent fighters will act as referees.

Wrestlers having performed and left the next ring affair here will be an amateur boxing show April 23 for the benefit of the New Castle General Fire department. A committee of firemen has been campaigning for the success of the promotion for some time. After the firemen's punch-party has been staged the New Castle police department will sponsor a boxing show for their funds. The police have staged several boxing shows, each of which was a big success. According to reports both ventures will prove a success. Some of the best punching talent in western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio will be presented.

Trout season opened today under good conditions. The weather was right, also the streams and no doubt while this is being typed many fishermen have landed some nice ones.

Lawrence Indies Ready To Start

The championship Lawrence Indies baseball team will hold its first workout of the season on Wednesday night at the Cedar street field at 5:30 o'clock. It was announced today by Manager John Rousso.

The following players are asked to report at the field promptly—Eddie Kozela, Henry Kozela, Byrd, Genock, Gaydoski, Sovesky, Savace, Rainey, Zarilla, Russu, Moseley, Evenoski, Presch, Wilk, Cernera, Baker and Morrison, also any others desiring a tryout.

BOSTON — The Boston Red Sox have more managers than any other American League club—20.

Big League Teams Open Season Today

New York Yankees Beat Gun And Get Victory Over Washington On Monday 3-0

Cleveland Indians With Feller Pitching Play White Hose, Pirates At Chicago

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 15.—The baseball season was officially on today with those pace-setters of old out in front—one up and 153 games to go.

That would be the New York Yankees, who took advantage of a situation yesterday to steal the jump on the rest of the clubs. Playing in the day's only game, they turned back the Washington Senators before a capacity crowd of 32,000, including President Roosevelt, at the capital and at the same time offered at least a partial reply to those critics who wanted to know what the Yanks planned to use for pitching this season.

Russo In Shape
Marius Russo heightened the theatrics of the occasion by hurling a three-hitter that beat the veteran "Dutch" Leonard and his knuckler, and the Yanks as a whole sandwiched enough extra-base hits among their paltry half dozen blows to look something like the club that dominated the game for so long until last season.

There are 153 games left on the program between now and next fall, and we are scarcely counting the Yankees in. Far from it, but they looked like a club headed somewhere, although a changed lineup was utilized. Gerry Priddy sat this one out due to a foot injury, and Joe Gordon went back to second base, giving first over to Johnny Sturm.

With that inaugural out of the way, the rest lined up today as follows:

American league—Washington at Boston, Philadelphia at New York, Chicago at Cleveland and Detroit at St. Louis.

National league—St. Louis at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh at Chicago, Boston at Philadelphia and New York at Brooklyn.

Indians vs White Sox
Today's feature attractions were the American league tussles at St. Louis and Cleveland. In the former Bobo Newsom was to hurl for the champion Detroit Tigers against the rejuvenated Browns, while at Cleveland it was Bob Feller against the White Sox.

St. Louis at Cincinnati was to be the National's big noise, inasmuch as these two clubs are expected to fight it out with Brooklyn for the title the Reds won for the second time in a row last season. The Reds called upon one of their two aces, Paul Derringer, to start the thing right.

The Yankees planned to make it two straight, if possible, against the Athletics behind the hurling of their veteran of their recent boom years—Red Ruffing. He was almost as much a favorite to come through as were Newsom and Feller in their games.

Giants vs Dodgers
From a strictly sectional standpoint, the Giant-Dodger tussle at Ebbets field ran second to none. The Flatbush faithful planned to storm Ebbets field and fill it to the rafters in anticipation of seeing their beloved Dodgers upset the wobbly Giants.

Among other things, the Dodger fans faithfully expect to see Joe Medwick get off to a fast start in the batting championship race. Through the spring he led the club in hitting and apparently is headed for a great comeback from his slightly disappointing 1940 season.

City-County Loop Meets On Monday

Four Teams Apply For Franchises; Next Meeting April 17

Four teams applied for franchises in the City-County Baseball League during a meeting held Monday night in Carm DeLone's, 112 West Washington street.

Representatives of several other aggregations signified their intention of entering the league.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday night, April 17, starting at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be held in Carm's.

BOWLING

Eagles captured the second half championship of the City Ten-Pin loop with a percentage of 667 and the Moose won similar honors in the Industrial Ten-Pin league, according to statistics released today. The championship of the City league will be played at nine p. m. Wednesday at McCoy's. The total pins for all games will decide the winner. The similar series will find Jim McCormick's Pitts opposed to the Eagles. The Pitts won the first half. There will be no play-off for the Industrial circuit championship because the Moose, led by Harry Orr, won both halves.

The City and Industrial leagues will stage a joint banquet in the Moose dining hall next week. Jim Thomas is president of the City circuit, and Curley Durbin is secretary. J. D. Thompson is president of the Industrial loop and Carl Boenisch is treasurer.

Prepare For Rally Here Memorial Day

Preparations are being made by the young people of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, of Pearson street, for the entertainment of the district rally of the Allied Young People's Societies, of western Pennsylvania, on Memorial Day, May 30.

It is expected that about 600 young people will attend from all parts of the state. Due to the limited facilities in the host church, the commodious Second United Presbyterian church, on County Line street has been secured for the rally.

The rally will consist of three services. Among the list of speakers will be Rev. W. G. Weston, noted evangelist of Elizabeth.

Retirement Age Is Dropped To 66

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—Philadelphia school teachers must retire at the age of 66 beginning August 1, 1942, according to new regulations adopted by the board of education. The board voted to lower the retirement age from 68, but not without opposition.

"Most people nowadays don't think of 66 as very old," asserted Mrs. William E. Lingelbach, 67, Temple University history instructor who was one of three board members opposed to the move. Last year, the board dropped the retirement age from 70 to 68.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

Friday and Saturday of this week will be big days here in New Castle . . . some 4 to 5 thousand high school students will be here from all over the state of Pennsylvania . . . music will be the talk morning, noon and night. We hope that each and every one will be entertained royally while they are here in town . . . a great many folks have offered their homes for a night or two . . . the students will pay one dollar per night . . . let's not make any of them sleep out in the open. Friday night a dance will be held in The Cathedral, in honor of each and every contestant . . . a good band has been engaged, programs have been printed, sandwiches, pop, candy will be there . . . in other words the ballroom will be turned into a summer resort . . . dancing will be from 9 to 12 . . . only those students who are in the state contest or connected with the workings of the contest will be admitted. Asa Hoffmaster is chairman of this dance and he says it will be the greatest dance New Castle has ever had the pleasure of giving . . . the money for this shing dig was raised by the City-County Basketball tournament . . . so a great many people of the town and county have a hand in entertaining the music students of Pennsylvania.

The weather man says it will cool down some in the next few days . . . we hope that it doesn't get too cool . . . too many buds are ready to burst into blossom . . . right now it looks like a good year in the fruit industry . . . a little rain, warm rain, would not hurt any, in fact it would do right well. Take advantage of these warm days and get caught up with your garden work.

The Y. M. C. A. indoor circus . . . the event of the spring season, will be held on Thursday and Friday nights of this week. The acts that are in rehearsal this week are something to see . . . a real circus band will be on hand, composed of local fads, slide horns and big drums. Aerial artists, clowns . . . peanuts, popcorn and the laughter of children will be the thing on these two gala nights . . . be sure you are on hand early to insure a good seat.

If store owners would get out or have one of their handy men get out in the morning and hose down the sidewalk in front of their place of business . . . dust blowing into their store would be somewhat reduced.

Proper Care Of Lawn Is Important Matter

Many people spend a great deal of time each year trying to make a lawn and keep it looking nice and green, yet their work seems only wasted effort. Proper preparation of a lawn as well as proper care in the season is needed if one wants a nice thick sod. County Agent H. R. McCulloch, of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association states:

The materials and equipment for making, maintaining and renovating lawns are few, and relatively simple, he says.

First, one should have good soil, rich loam from six to eight inches is ideal, while good drainage is also essential. Where the soil is clayey or sandy, an inch of organic matter should be spread on the surface and worked into the soil. Materials which may be used if needed, are: native raw peat, cultivated peat, imported peat moss, mushroom soil, well-rotted manure, fresh stable manure, or cocoa hulls, sewage sludge. Lame may be incorporated, using the amount indicated by the soil test which will be conducted if samples of the soil are brought to the office of the Extension Association in the Post Office Building. Ground limestone is preferred. Fertilizers with an organic base are preferred, complete fertilizers relatively high in phosphorus, such as 4-12-4, 5-10-5, 6-12-3 or 4-16-4. This is best applied in the early spring or late fall, according to directions.

An excellent mixture for established lawns is one part soybean meal, or cottonseed meal, and one part by weight of 4-16-4. Tankage or activated sewage sludge may be substituted for the soybean meal.

For new lawns, 40 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate or bone meal per 1000 square feet should be applied and worked in to tillage depth when lime and organic matter are applied. Follow with 25 to 30 pounds of complete fertilizer to 1000 square feet.

For poor turf, apply 15 to 20 pounds of 4-16-4 per 1000 square feet, early in the spring about the time growth starts, and 25 pounds again in the fall, until the turf is good, then make fall applications only. For good turf apply 20 to 25 pounds per 1000 square feet early in the fall. Use half this amount if fescue predominates.

In re-seeding lawns, a mixture of two pounds Kentucky blue grass, one-half pound red top, one-quarter pound of Dutch clover, mixed in the proportion of one-quarter of a pound to a bushel of top soil, and spread on one-quarter of an inch thick, is the best method of applying the seed to old lawns. Putting seed on the bare ground and rolling it, is a useless waste of effort. It must be partly covered to germinate and take hold.

Seeding should be done as early as possible in order to crowd out the weed seeds, particularly for a lawn which has worn thin and bare. That is why fall seeding is recommended. However, although this has been an unusually early season, it is still not too late to get this work done.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Now that the ladies have emerged from the sombre shadows of Lent, it is apparent that they are attracted, as moths to a flame—or, better, as butterflies to a rose—by gay and vivid colors. Textile manufacturers are playing up color harder than ever—to ameliorate, one supposes, the prevailing gloominess and apprehension of the times.

They have an association which links color and news headlines, and which supplies color prisms to each member, all based on a close study of compelling news interest. It is an association with glamour and with romance which is or, at any rate, is supposed to be a stimulus to rainbow raiment. Whether this is so or is just the eternal feminine yen for pretty clothes, is a wide open question.

The answer may be found by some black beetle psychologist. This man is sombre garb would be interested in learning whether the poetic and elaborate research of the textile manufacturers actually affects the final colors chosen in Park Avenue or Grand Street. American industry can splash around in color now as it never could before, thanks to Mitchell Palmer, who handed the German dye-patents over to the Chemical Foundation. Our great expositions, particularly that of San Francisco in 1915, jolted our puritan heritage a lot and made us less timid about color.

One hears much of the machine making a drab world—standardizing people and getting them into a lock-step. Here is one of those curious compensatory forces with which Emerson was so deeply absorbed. Mass production, even as the conveyor belt grows longer and swifter, is getting more flexible. Any working girl can find a range of color, design and price in clothes which would have made a duchess green with envy, before the machine age.

Next to colors, colors have the strongest associative quality, since most persons have the primary visual mind and memory. "Knight's blue"—there's a touch-off for all your day dreams, be you a damsel on the avenue or just Hat Checker No. 6. If we had a work color, instead of a play color, it probably would be "Denim Blue". But we never romanticize work.

European peasants make marvelous use of color in their folk costumes, but they are for fetes and holidays. Gray or black or brown are their work colors. For work we want clothes which are serviceable and inconspicuous. The protective coloring of khaki is for men in the ranks. The color and gold braid is for the officers.

EDENBURG SCHOOL TERM NEARS END

Closes April 29 Ahead Of Other Buildings; Many Flu Make-ups

The one-room Edenburg elementary school will be the first Lawrence County school to close for the summer, Roy F. Conway, assistant county superintendent of schools, announced today.

Edenburg's closing on Tuesday, April 29, will be the first of the term-endings which, due to school interruptions because of influenza during the winter, will extend into June this year.

Time lost then must, under state law, be made up before the 1940-41 term can officially adjourn.
